PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

When one considers an annual or year book he is inclined to think of the Seniors. This naturally leads one to think of graduation or commencement as it is called. At such a time one would like to express some profound and helpful thought that the Seniors will remember throughout their lives.

I have no such thought in mind, but would like to mention some very simple things. Many people are inclined to believe that education ends when one finishes school; however you are just entering upon another phase of education. As long as one can learn from experience, his own or some other person's he is being educated. Let me emphasize the fact that although this may be the end of school for some of you; nevertheless your education does not cease. I hope that some of you will go on to institutions of higher learning, but even though this may be the end of your formal education you can still attain a high degree of learning by observing and studying things in every day life.

Some people regard college training from the utilitarian view point. Possibly even today, with the high wages paid to unskilled and semi-skilled workers, one may prove the money value of college training. The greatest value of a higher education is the larger fields of interest and enjoyment that is open to those having such training. Desirable as a college education may be, if this is denied you, don't get the idea that you are not capable of getting a worthwhile education.

The real proof of the value of anything, be it just a gadget or a great idea, is the use made of it. May we all show the value of our schooling by being upright and helpful citizens of the community in which we live.

CLASS PROPHECY

In my job of inquiring reporter and movie critic in this year 1970, I come across many interesting subjects.

Tonight I am attending the premiere of that great motion picture "Mother Wore Tights," cause thats all she had when the long skirts came in.

I suppose there will be many famous people there. Ah, there is one now, being mobbed by autograph hunters. As I draw closer, I find it to be an old classmate of mine, Dwight Brown, now All-American tackle, all over the U.S. for his ability to bring down an appenent by playfully sticking his finger in their eye.

There are other celebrities to gaze upon also, for on a job like this, one must be on his toes. Sitting a few seats in front of me, I see a group of men. I can see by their gold-plated tooth-picks that they are former classmates at Carlton High, our dear old Alma Mammy. There were three of them; Harold Pritchett, Keith Spooner, and Bill Knapton. Together they had created an auto repair dynasty, whereby they would take your car and-----come to think of it, that is all they do Just take your car. After chatting for a short time and passing around the collection plate, I departed.

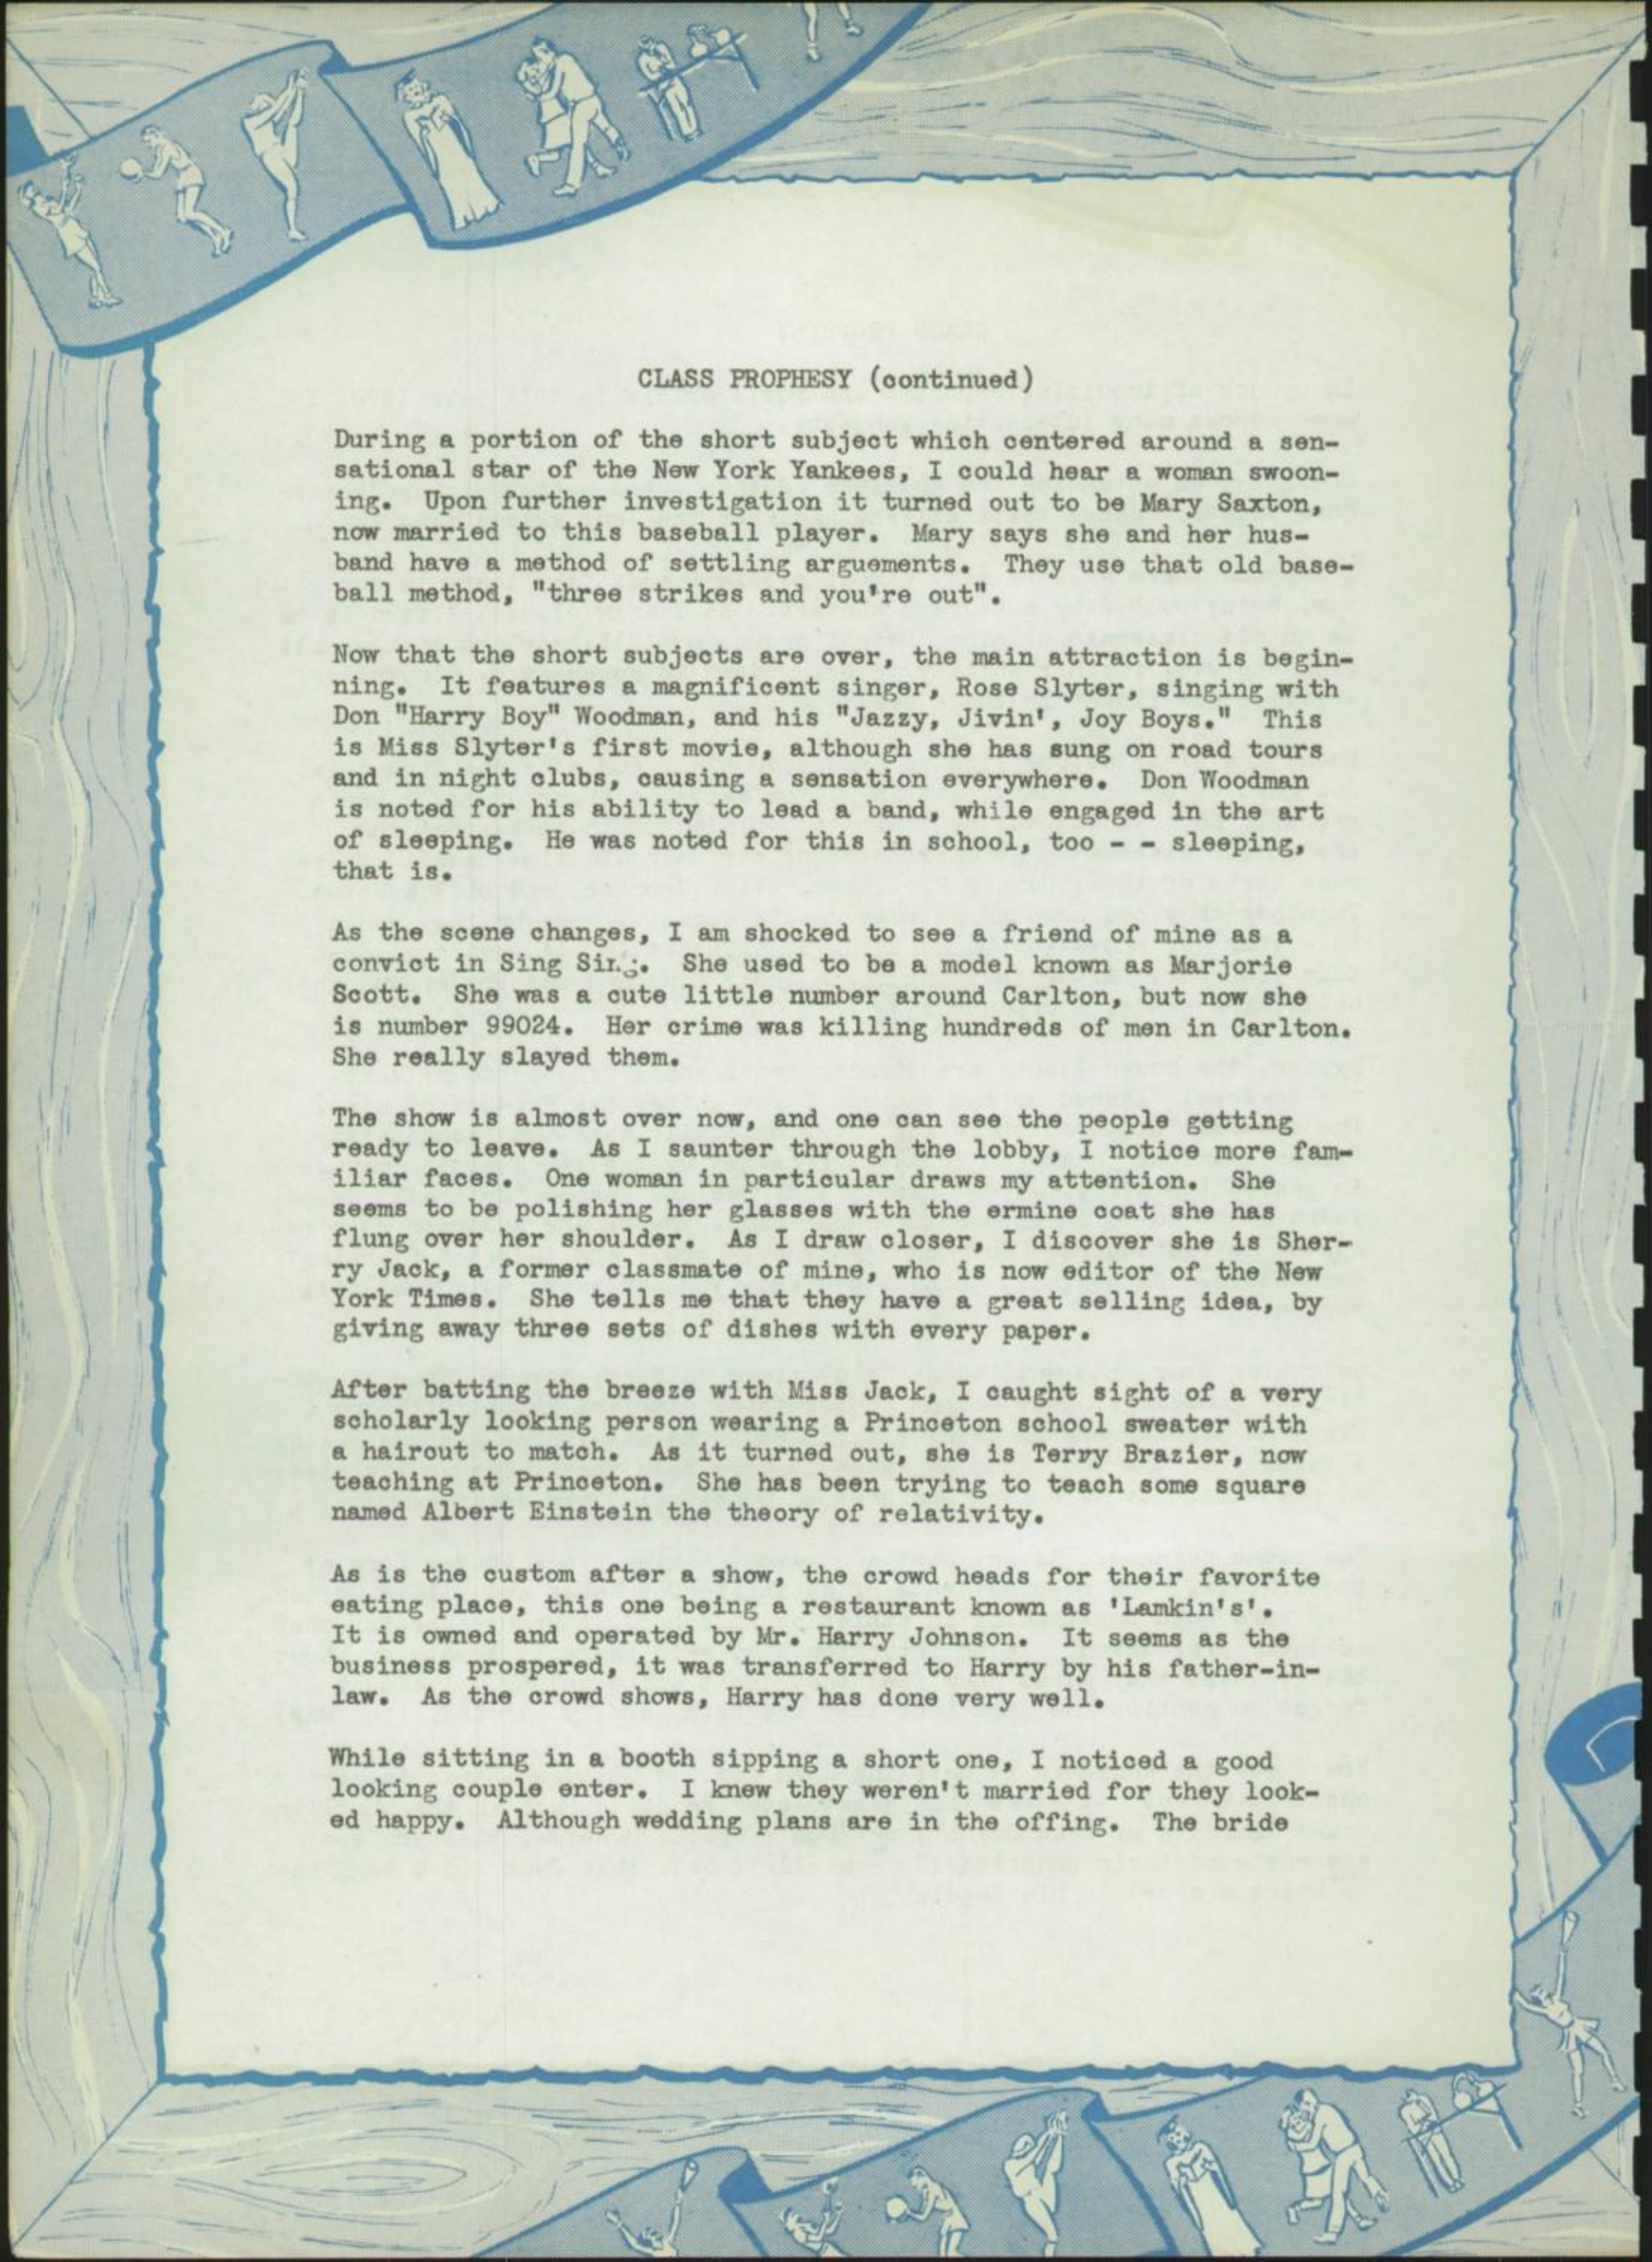

By now, the house lights are dimming, so I shall proceed to my seat. As the newsreel flashed on the screen, I recognized two friends of mine. The newsreel pictured those two rival baseball teams-the "Schenectady Schmos" and the "Wakhegan Schnooks", headed by the two greatest managers in baseball history, Joyce "Lippy" Anderson and Eunice "Spitball" Swope. There seems to be an agrument on the mound. Swope and Anderson have resorted to fisticuffs. But this can't be. Swope and Anderson fighting? How absurd. Although in this modern age, you can never tell what will happen.

Switching over, the next scene takes place in Reno, Nevada, home of publicized gambling. That famous professional gambler, Ralph "Slippery Fingers" Stoutenberg is being interviewed. He attributes his success as a gambler to the fact that he keeps no more than three aces up his sleeve at one time. He is a firm believer in honesty in card dealing.

The scene changes. We see next a ceremony taking place in New York at the Y.M.C.A., the co-presidents of which are Dot Weber and Billie Carter. They were both outstanding in athletics in school, thereby choosing that as their profession. In an interview they said there is something about the Y.M.C.A. that makes them feel they don't quite belong. I almost forgot to mention the fact that they are both happily married. (to MEN)

Now I see the audience is settling down for the feature attraction is about to begin. It stars that great actor Benjamin Pugh in the thrilling drama "Bandits of Dead Gulch", or "Don't Shoot, Grandma, till you see the white of their underwear." I wouldn't call this Pugh lad a ham, but he wears a clove in his lapel.

During a portion of the short subject which centered around a sensational star of the New York Yankees, I could hear a woman swooning. Upon further investigation it turned out to be Mary Saxton, now married to this baseball player. Mary says she and her husband have a method of settling arguments. They use that old baseball method, "three strikes and you're out".

Now that the short subjects are over, the main attraction is beginning. It features a magnificent singer, Rose Slyter, singing with Don "Harry Boy" Woodman, and his "Jazzy, Jivin', Joy Boys." This is Miss Slyter's first movie, although she has sung on road tours and in night clubs, causing a sensation everywhere. Don Woodman is noted for his ability to lead a band, while engaged in the art of sleeping. He was noted for this in school, too - - sleeping, that is.

As the scene changes, I am shocked to see a friend of mine as a convict in Sing Sing. She used to be a model known as Marjorie Scott. She was a cute little number around Carlton, but now she is number 99024. Her crime was killing hundreds of men in Carlton. She really slayed them.

The show is almost over now, and one can see the people getting ready to leave. As I saunter through the lobby, I notice more familiar faces. One woman in particular draws my attention. She seems to be polishing her glasses with the ermine coat she has flung over her shoulder. As I draw closer, I discover she is Sherry Jack, a former classmate of mine, who is now editor of the New York Times. She tells me that they have a great selling idea, by giving away three sets of dishes with every paper.

After battling the breeze with Miss Jack, I caught sight of a very scholarly looking person wearing a Princeton school sweater with a haircut to match. As it turned out, she is Terry Brazier, now teaching at Princeton. She has been trying to teach some square named Albert Einstein the theory of relativity.

As is the custom after a show, the crowd heads for their favorite eating place, this one being a restaurant known as 'Lamkin's'. It is owned and operated by Mr. Harry Johnson. It seems as the business prospered, it was transferred to Harry by his father-in-law. As the crowd shows, Harry has done very well.

While sitting in a booth sipping a short one, I noticed a good looking couple enter. I knew they weren't married for they looked happy. Although wedding plans are in the offing. The bride to-be was Evelyn Paola, who had just returned from Africa, where she had been studying early American apes. She tells me she is coming to Carlton for further research.

The page is framed by a blue border with a wavy, water-like texture. At the top and bottom of the page, there are illustrations of a boat with several people inside. The people are depicted in various poses, some standing, some sitting, and some appearing to be engaged in activities like playing or working. The boat is shown from a side-on perspective, moving across the water.

Remembering her ambition to be an air stewardess, I was very pleased to see that Darlene Dunwoody had finally become just that. They were almost ready to reject her due to being "too tall", but out of the goodness of their hearts, she achieved her position as chief hoopee cut distributor.

Those two famous interior decorators, Donna Hembree and Elsie Lyons were sitting in the booth next to me. Donna takes the money while Elsie uses strong-arm methods to persuade customers to buy. This has proved to be a well regulated system.

As I started to pay my check I noticed a very distinguished looking woman at a nearby table. She is president of the 'Society For The Prevention of Husbands'. She has been touring the country speaking on 'Why it is easier for a woman to be a good mother than it is for a man.' This woman is none other than Doris Bishop, a former student at Carlton High School.

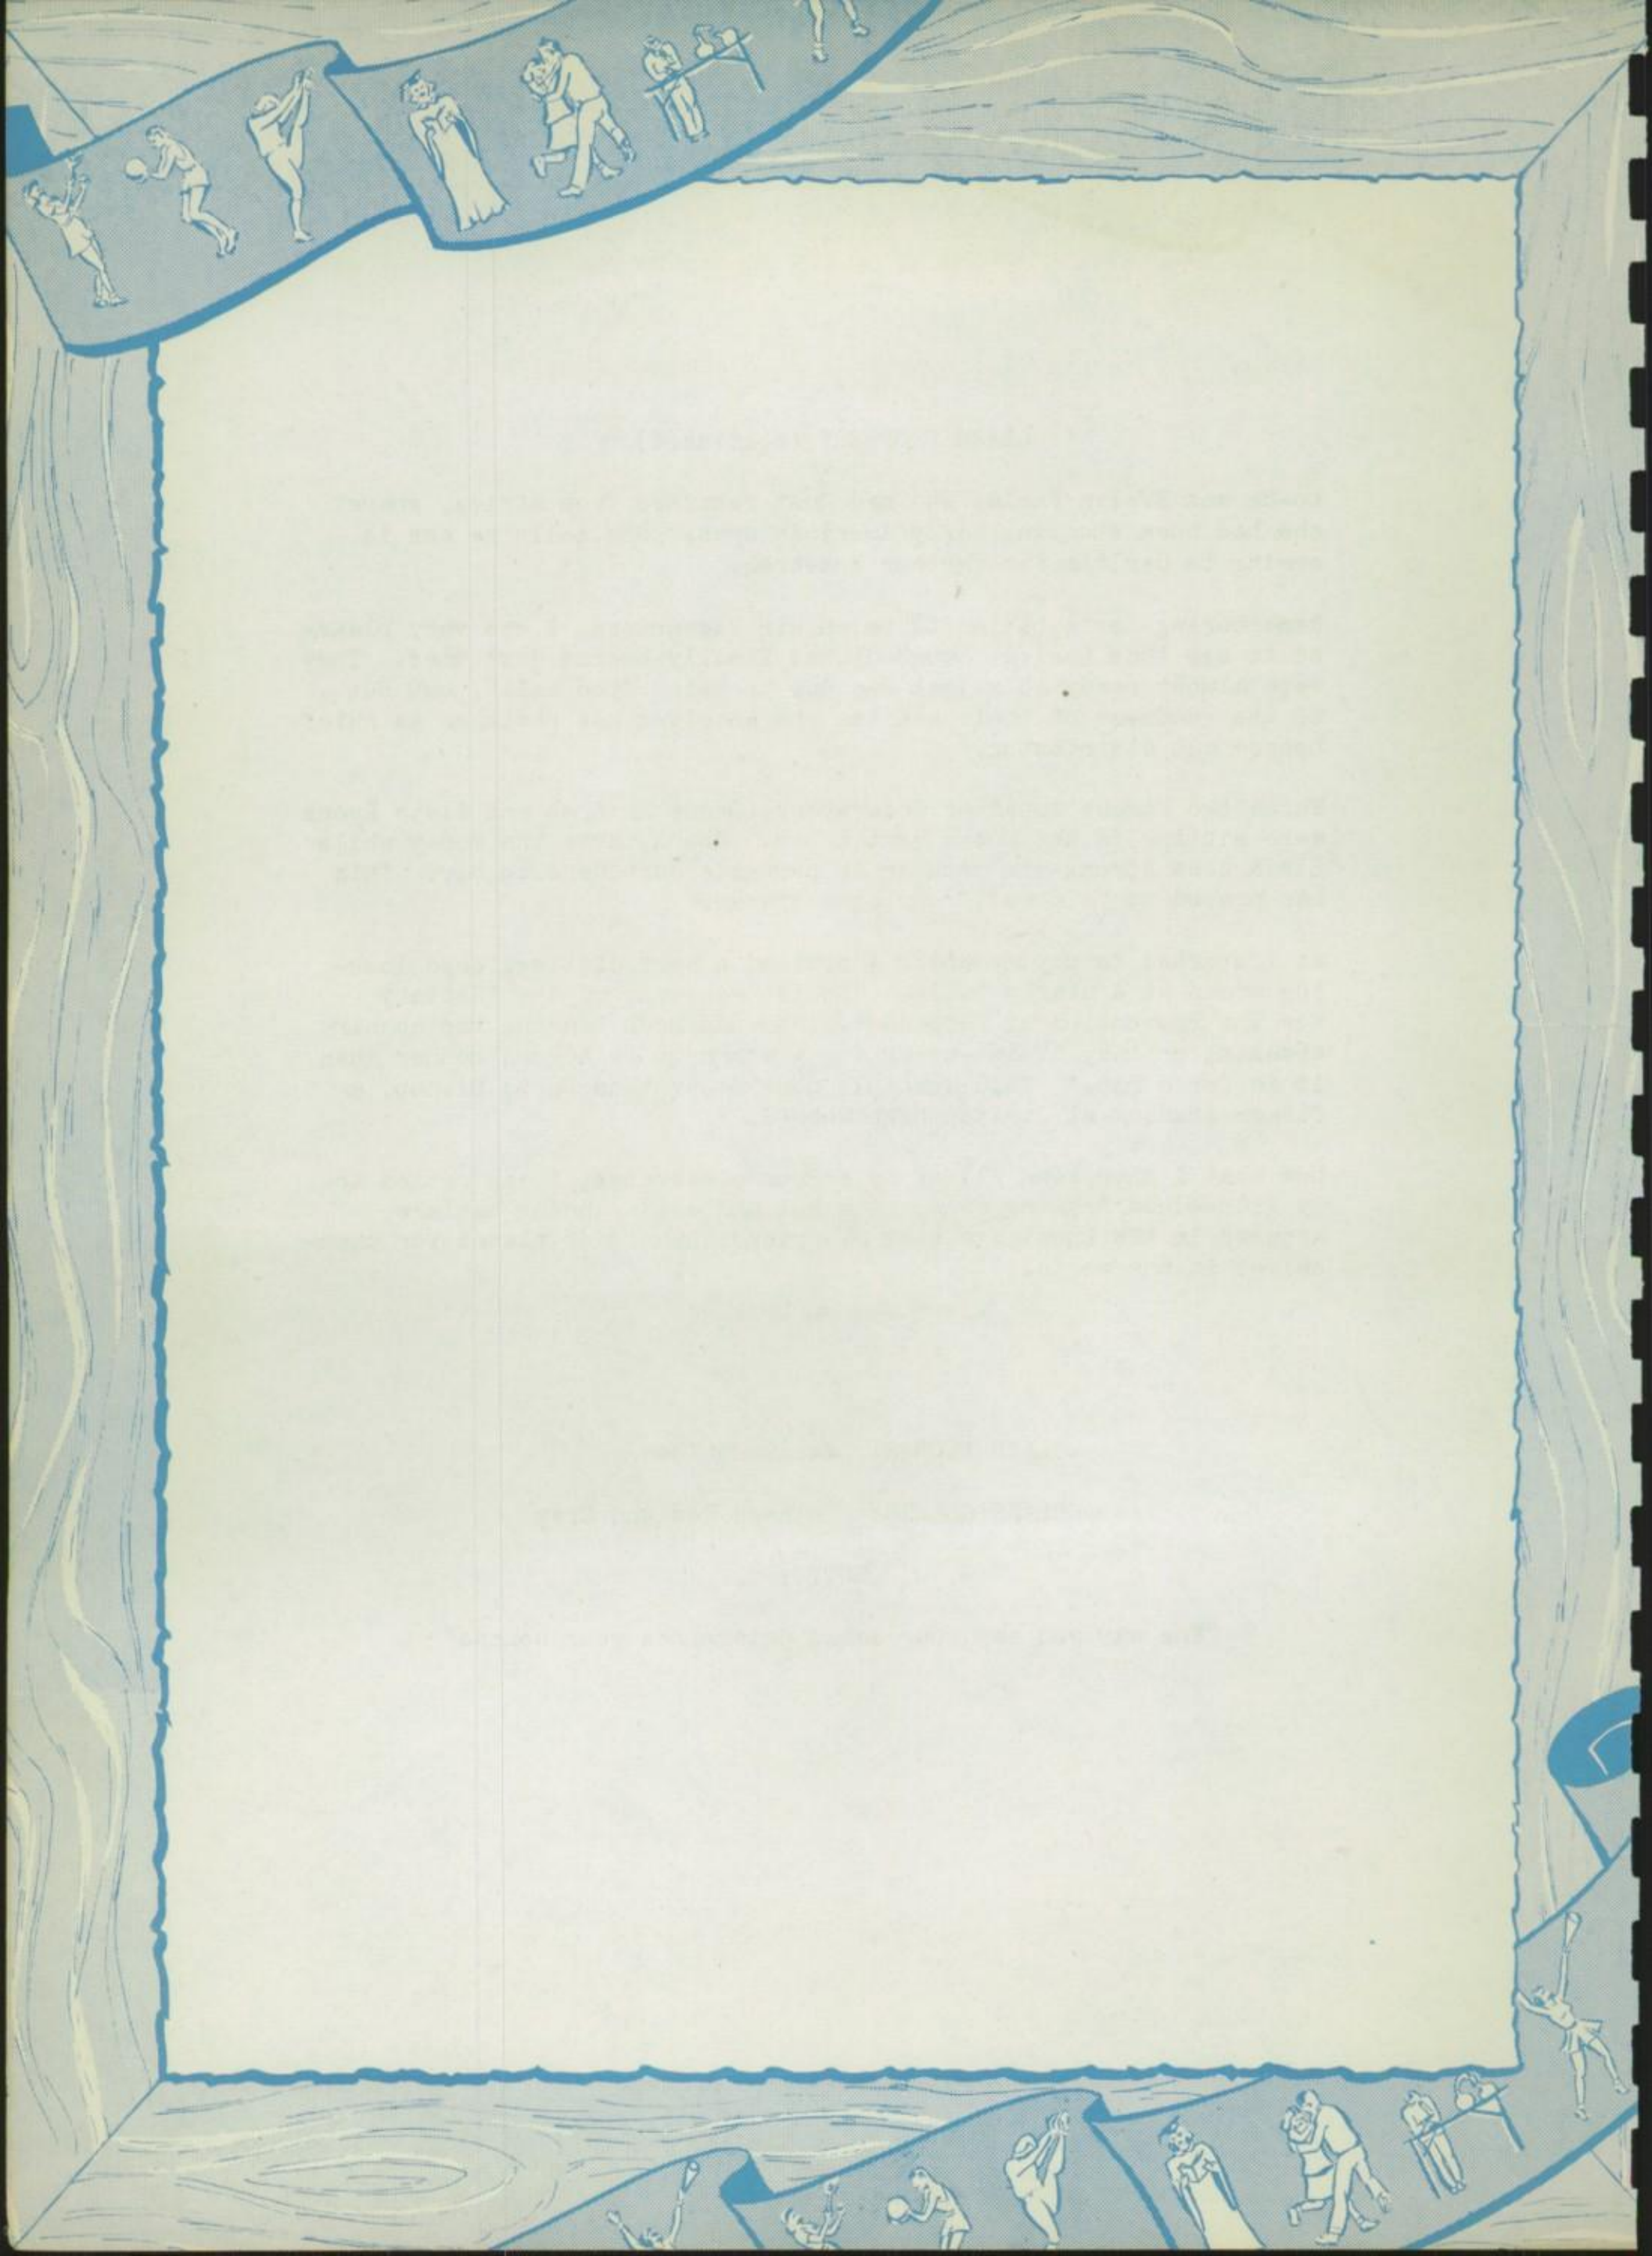

Now that I have seen all of my former classmates, I can retire to my gilt-edged drawing room, with hot and cold running butlers, assured in the knowledge that my friends have made places for themselves in the world.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The officers of the Freshman class are: president; Donald Hodney, vice president; Ronnie Vining, secretary; Donna Delaney, treasurer; Cletis Wasson, sergeant at arms; Jimmie Morris, council representative; Dale McKinnon. Mr. Tate is class advisor.

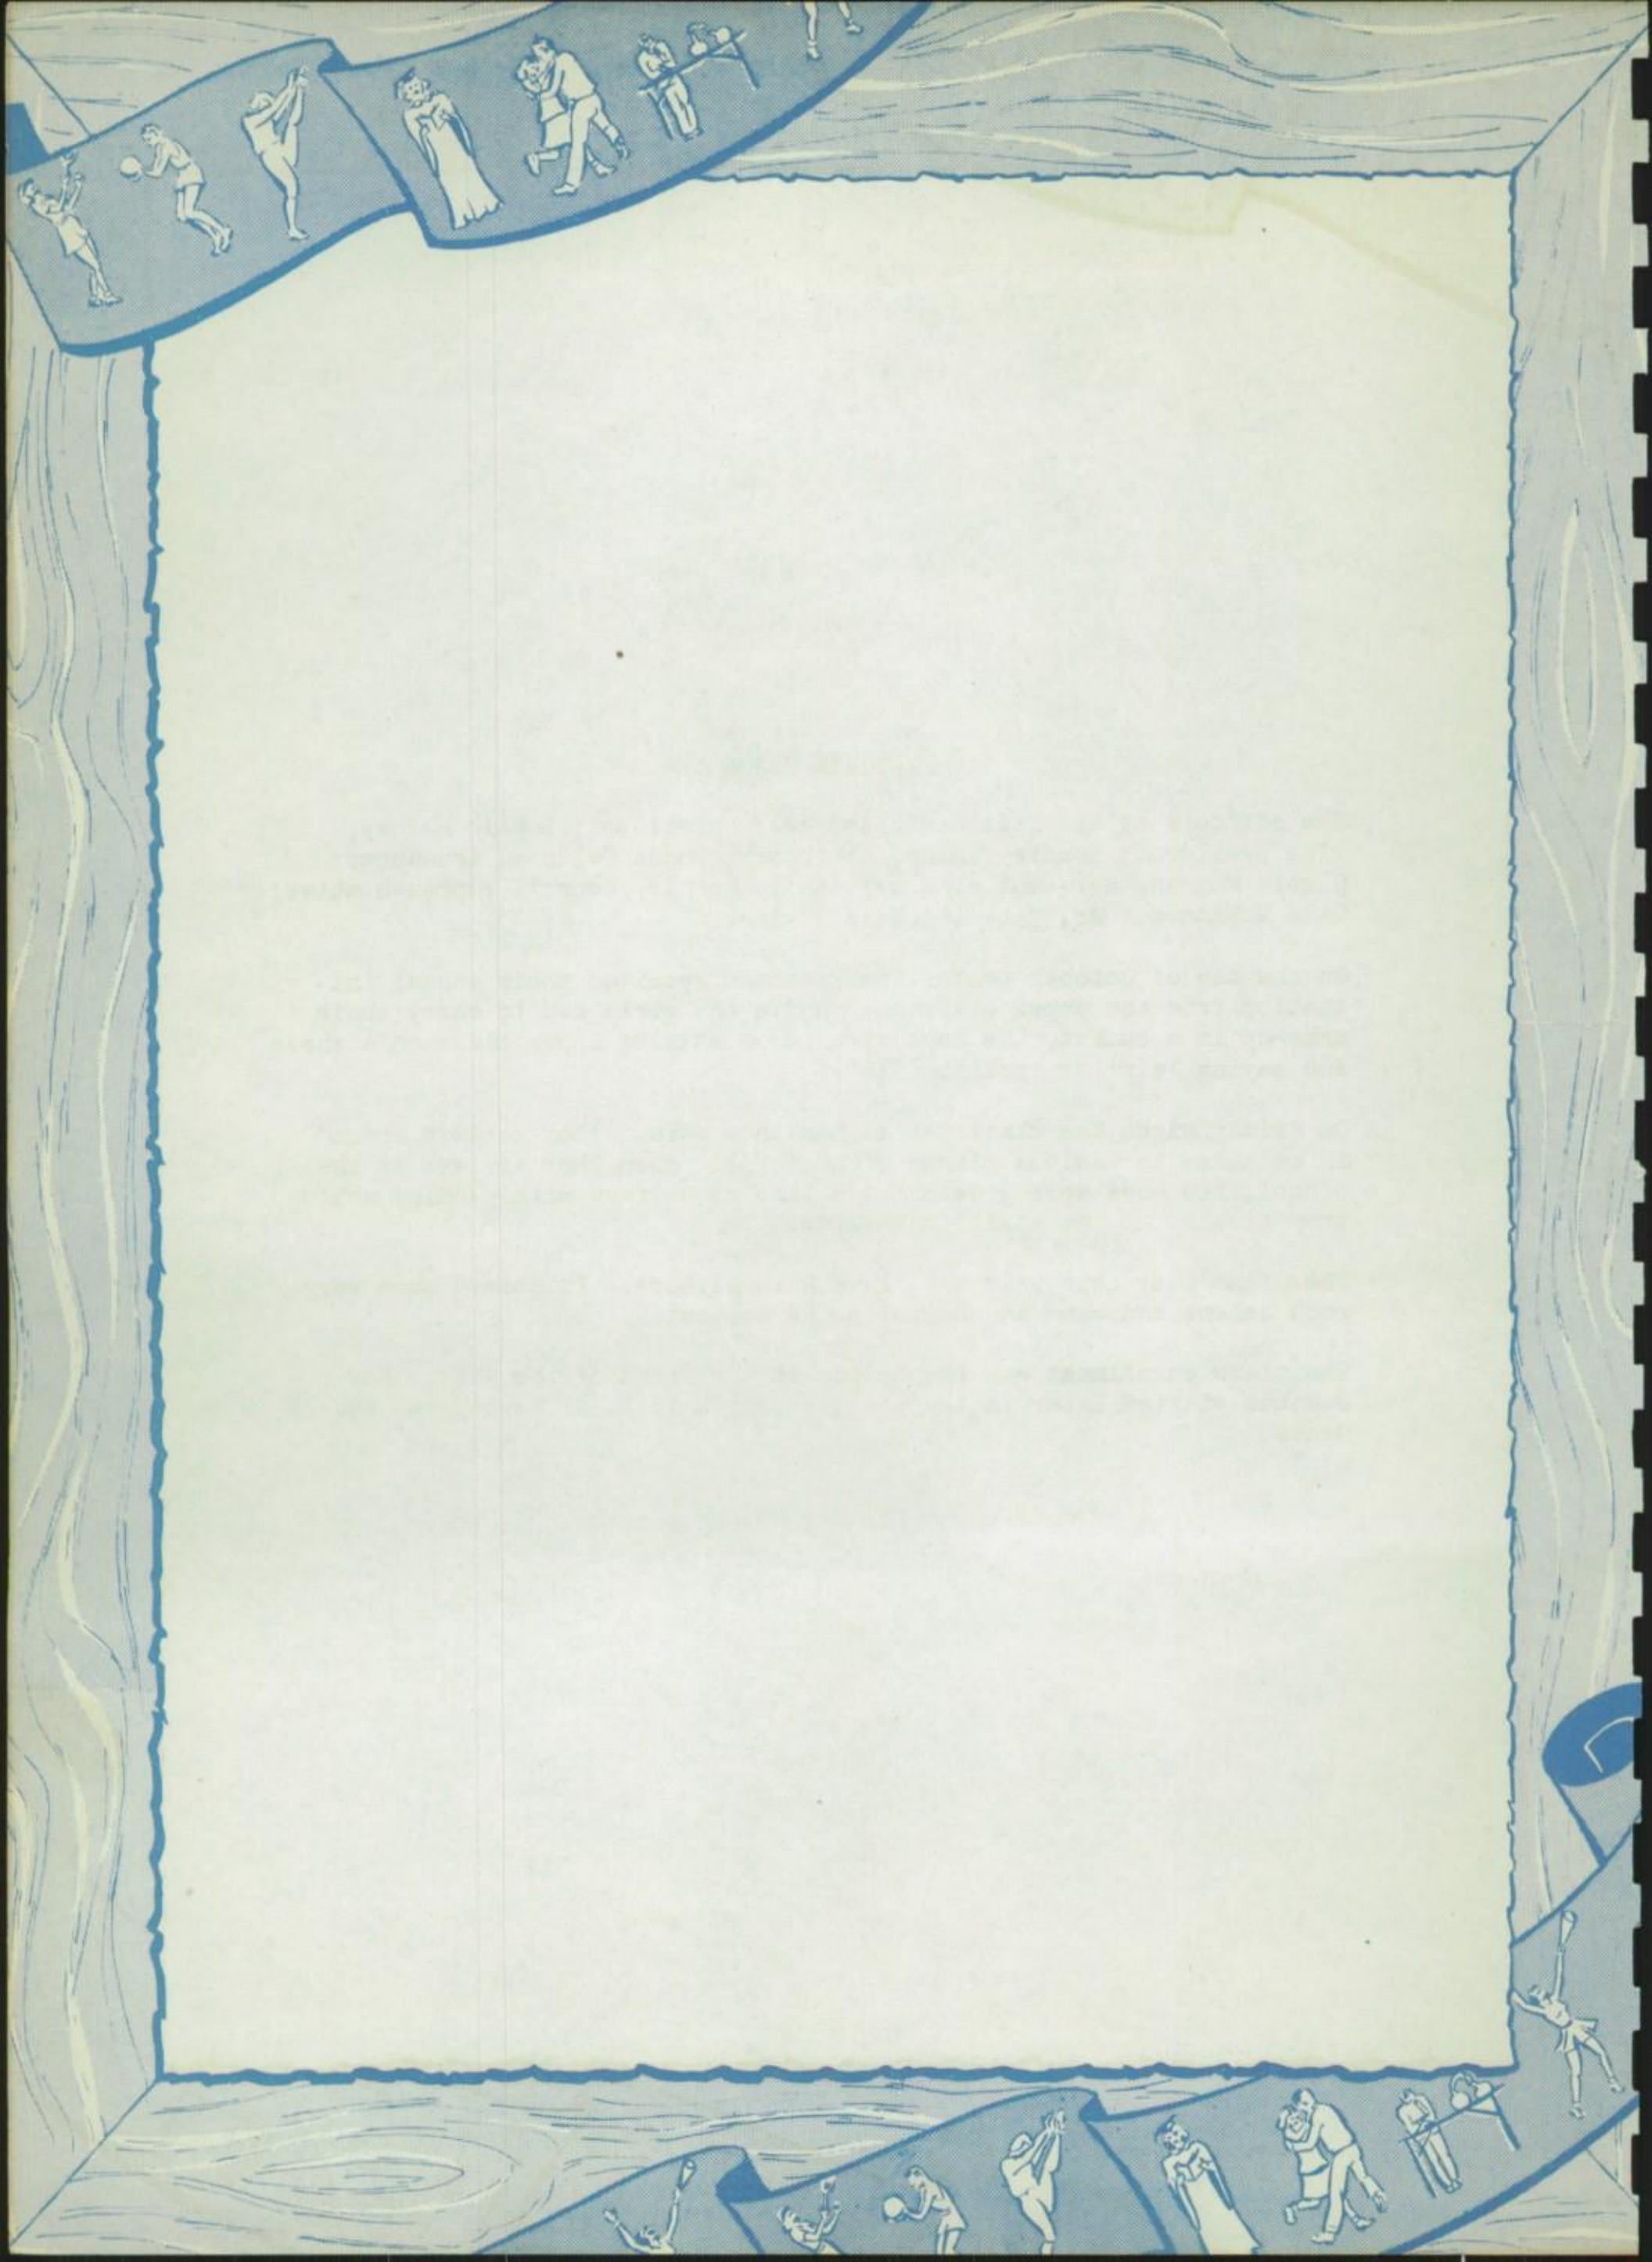

On the day of October tenth, the Freshmen received their annual initiation from the upper classmen. While the girls had to carry their make-up in a bucket, the boys were found shining upper classmen's shoes and saying 'sir' or 'praise Ahla'.

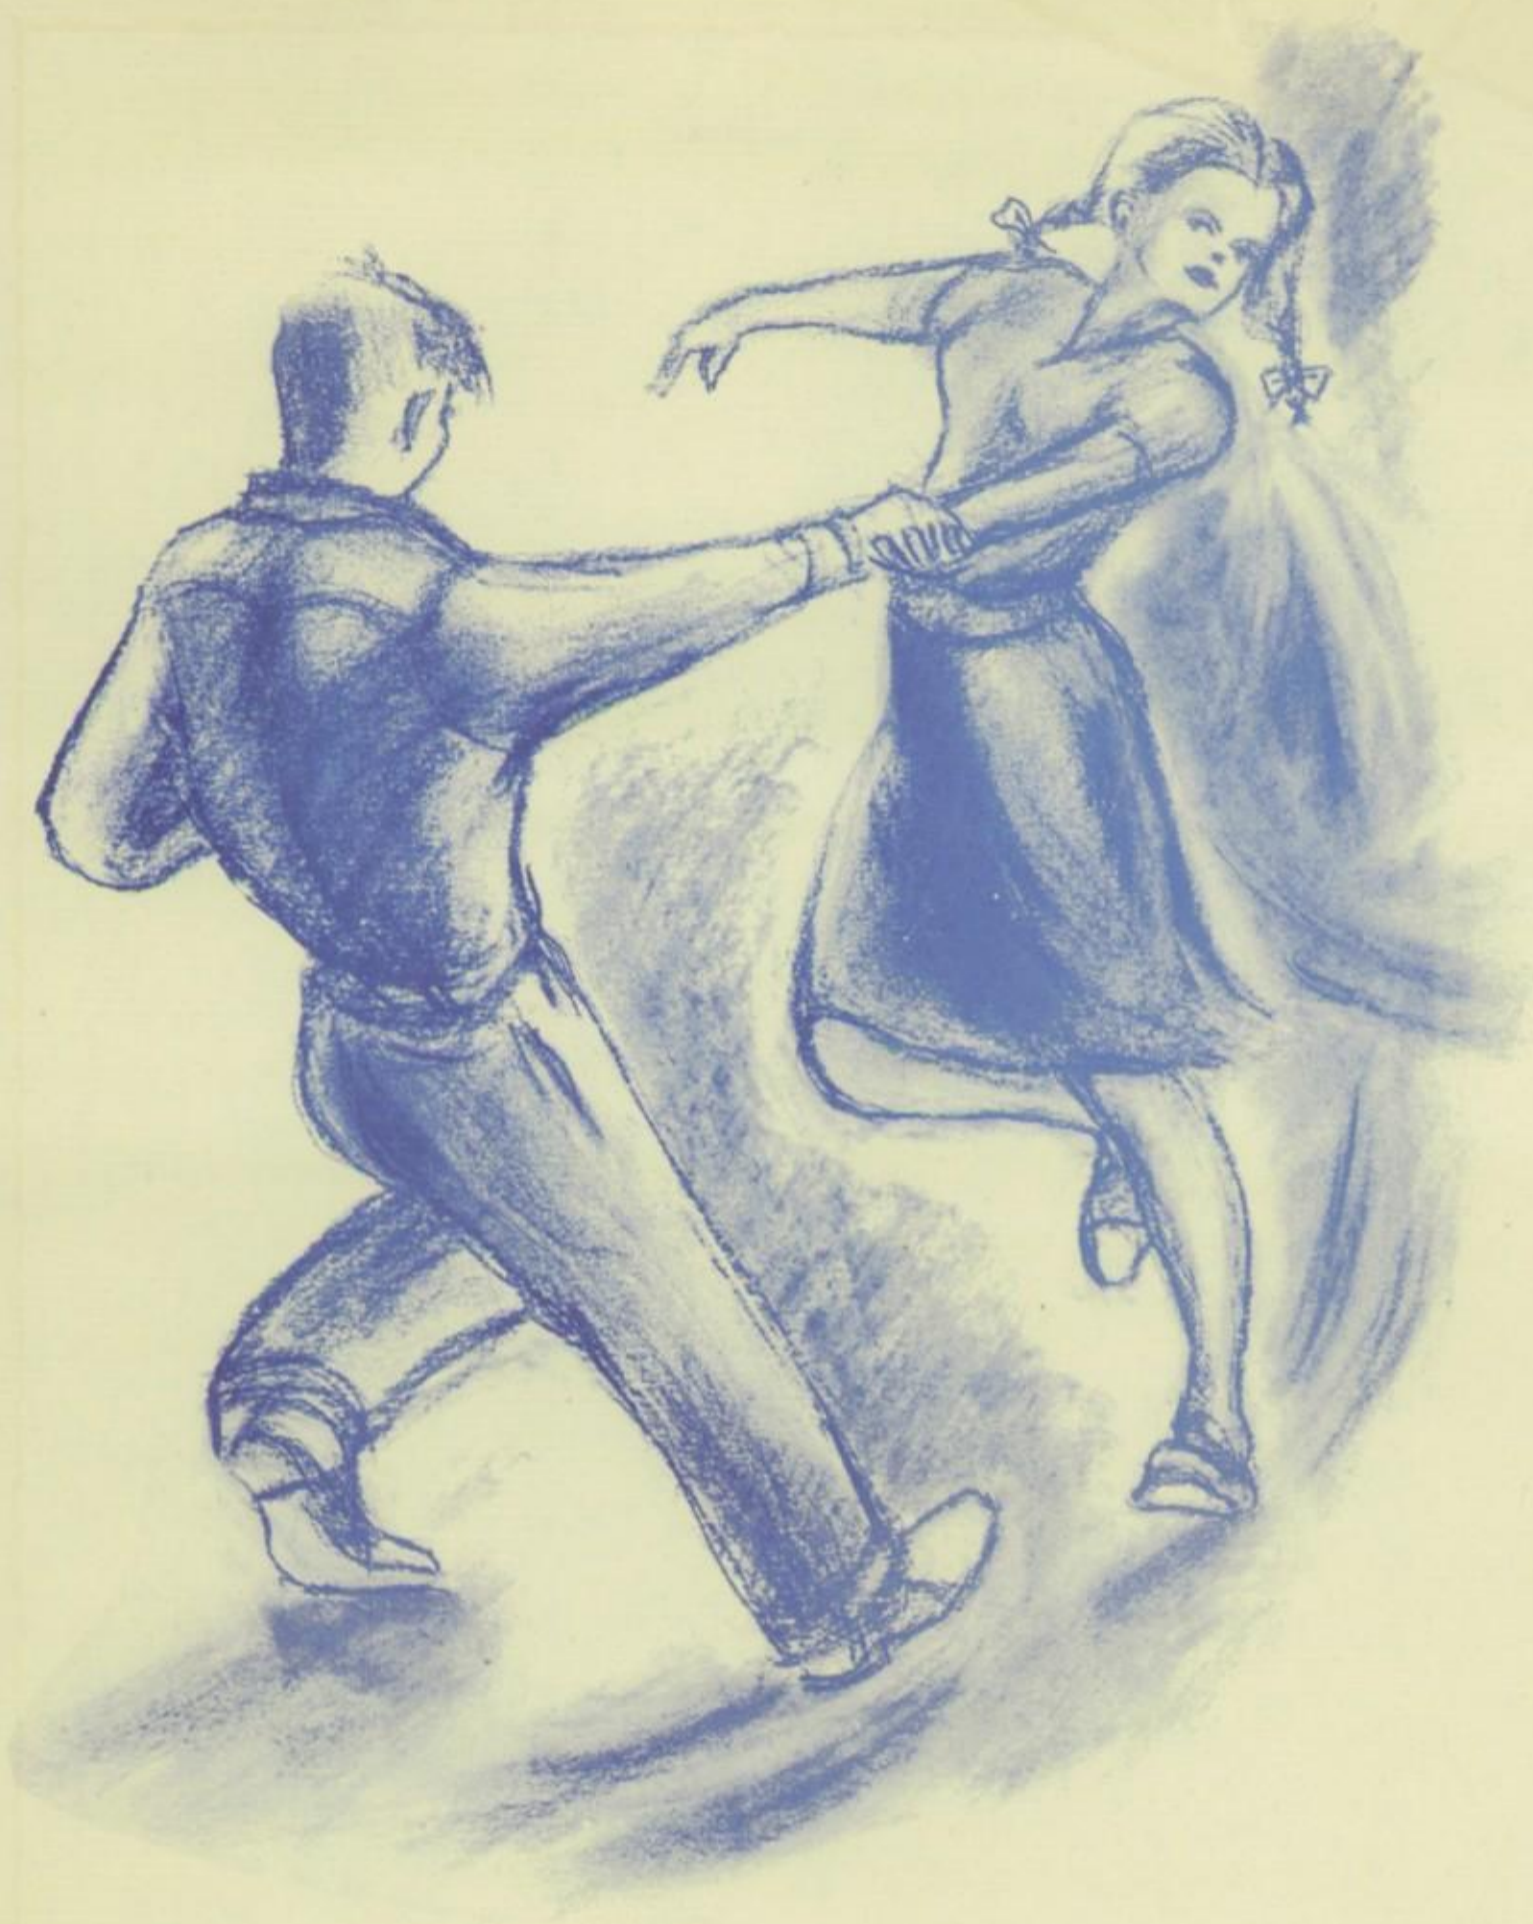

On Friday night the class met at Lamkin's cafe. They paraded around in costumes to various places of business. When they arrived at the school, the boys were greeted by a line of fellows with paddles while they crawled up the stairs backwards.

The class play this year was 'Love Hits Wilbur'. It showed some very good talent and came in second in the contest.

The class enrollment was twenty-one at the first of the year. Roy Johnson started later in the year, making a total of twenty-two students.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

Being an executive body, representing classes and clubs so chartered under the schools constitution, the student council endeavors to run the school under smooth order and correct discipline. It is its duty to find means of raising money, improve school spirit, and maintain the general functions of the Student Body.

The Student Body officers were: Ray Spooner, president; vice president, Kenny Hodney; secretary, Mary Etta Saxton; treasurer, Doris Boettcher; and sgt. at arms, Ben Pugh.

Lettermen

This year the Carlton Letterman club started the year with plenty of goals to reach. Along with President Ralph Stoutenburg, was Vice President Kenny Hodney, Secretary Leonard Johnson, and Treasure Harry Johnson. Kenny Hodney acted as President second semester due to the absence of Ralph Stoutenburg.

The first thing the letterman got was some baseball caps with a big white "C" on the front of them. They also plan to go to the coast some time.

The Letterman made some money during the "47-48" season. Some of it came from basketball games and some from shows that they put on in the school.

Carlton C's

The Carlton C's started out thier '47-'48 school year with the traditional amount of school spirit. The officers were: president Doris Bishop; vice-prés., Doris Boettcher; secretary, Billie Carter; treasurer, Rose Slyter; sgt. at arms, Norma Archibald; Council Rep., Eunice Swope. During the basketball season the C's and Letterman alternated with pop and candy sales.

The annual banquet and initiation of new members is to be held March 9. The uniforms this year were red skirts and white prep sweaters. An article was added to the constitution that these become the standard uniforms of the organization.

New members are Edith Woodman, Ella Mae Bachman, Joyce Westermann, Sherry Jack, Norma Archibald, Rose Slyter, and Janet Bayliss.

G.A.A.

The G.A.A. is again this year a successful club. All of the girls in high school belong to the G.A.A. Each year the Freshman girls are formally initiated into the club.

The main purpose of the G.A.A. is to promote better sportsmanship and better living among the girls.

During the year the girls may earn points by volleyball, skating, hiking, horseback-riding, bicycling, and swimming. When they have earned a certain number of points they are given letters or numerals by the G.A.A.

Every year the girls have dues to pay which were twenty-five cents a semester, this year. The money is then put in the treasury and is used in whatever way the club agrees.

The officers of the G.A.A. this year were as follows: Doris Boetcher as President, Doris Bishop as Vice President, Eunice Swope as Secretary, Mary Saxton as Treasurer, and Dorothy Weber as Council Representative.

The club also gave several parties during the year.

ANNUAL STAFF

The annual staff this year is the largest we have ever had. We have put out what we hope is the best annual ever put out by Carlton High School.

The annual pictures were taken by Fireside Portrait Service of Salem. Master Engravers again printed our annual and we are very proud of it.

The staff members are----

HI-LIFE

The Hi-Life this year is published once monthly, consisting of eight pages.

Since there is no Journalism class, as there was last year, the staff is made up of volunteers from the student-body.

Sherry Jack, who was this years editor, has done very well in getting the Hi-Life out on time.

The Hi-Life was entered in the Oregon High School Press Association contest this year.

Mrs. Six was the Hi-Life advisor.

LIBRARY

This year the library staff consists of six librarians. Mrs. Six is advisor and Donna Mae Hembree is head librarian.

We have had many books rebound, and have purchased twelve new books.

The librarians are: Ray Spooner, Donna Mae Hembree, Donna Delaney, Elsie Lyons, Harold Wasson and Doris Estey.

CHORUS

There is a mixed chorus this year consisting of forty-one girls and boys.

The instructor is Mr. Tate. The accompanists this year are Bonnie Briggs, Margie Scott, and Lavilla Michaelsohn.

Special numbers consist of a boys quartet, and an octet consisting of four girls and four boys.

The group sang for the Eastern Star in Yamhill, for school programs, and now are planning the annual spring concert.

This year, both the first and second year girls of Home Economics have joined together to make one organization, which is called "The Future Homemakers of America."

The first year girls are learning to cook and sew, while the second year girls are going on with demonstrations, home projects and so on.

Miss Pettit says that both groups have done very well this year.

Honor Society

The Honor Society is a new organization in Carlton Union High. It was organized in November, 1947, with nine members, chosen for having the best semester grade averages in the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes. Eligibility for membership is dependent upon semester grade averages, and a member cannot be dropped for poor grades during a six weeks. Sophomores are members on probation and may not hold office.

The purpose of the Honor Society is to further scholastic achievements in the school as well as athletics, etc.

Officers were elected with Sherry Jack as President, Raymond Spooner as Vice-Pres., Marjorie Scott as Secretary-Treasurer, and Carolyn Jernstedt as Council Representative.

Lavilla Michaelsohn plays the part of Bobby Sox and Doris Boettcher as her seventeen year old sister. Joyce Westermann plays the mother of these daughters. Kenny Hodney, who is fond of Doris, plays as Morton. Raymond Spooner as Cal, Keith Brown as Bill, and Carl Jewell as Cliff, played as the other rivals.

Mrs. Six was the advisor and coach.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM

Do to the change in the schedule the Carlton Cardinettes did not play as many games this year as they ususally do. The girls played three league games this year, and several practice games.

The returning lettermen on the volleyball team this year were: Billie Carter, Doris Bishop, Marjorie Scott, Dorothy Weber, Doris Boettcher, and Norma Archibald. New members this year are: Joyce Westermann, Carolyn Jernstedt, Terry Brazier, and Sherry Jack.

The girls manager forthis year was Doris Estey, and captain was Dorothy Weber. Our advisor and coach was Mrs. Anne Six.

The four high pointers were:

Doris Bishop	24
Joyce Westermann	13
Billie Carter	11
Terry Brazier	11

Schools played and scores were:

CARLTON 32	SHERIDAN 18
CARLTON 25	DAYTON 35
CARLTON 31	YAMHILL 15
Total 88	Total 68

Our practice games were with:

PERRYDALE
SHERIDAN
YAMHILL

YELL LEADERS

This year our three Yell Leaders were Doris Bishop, Norma Archibald and Darlene Dunwoody.

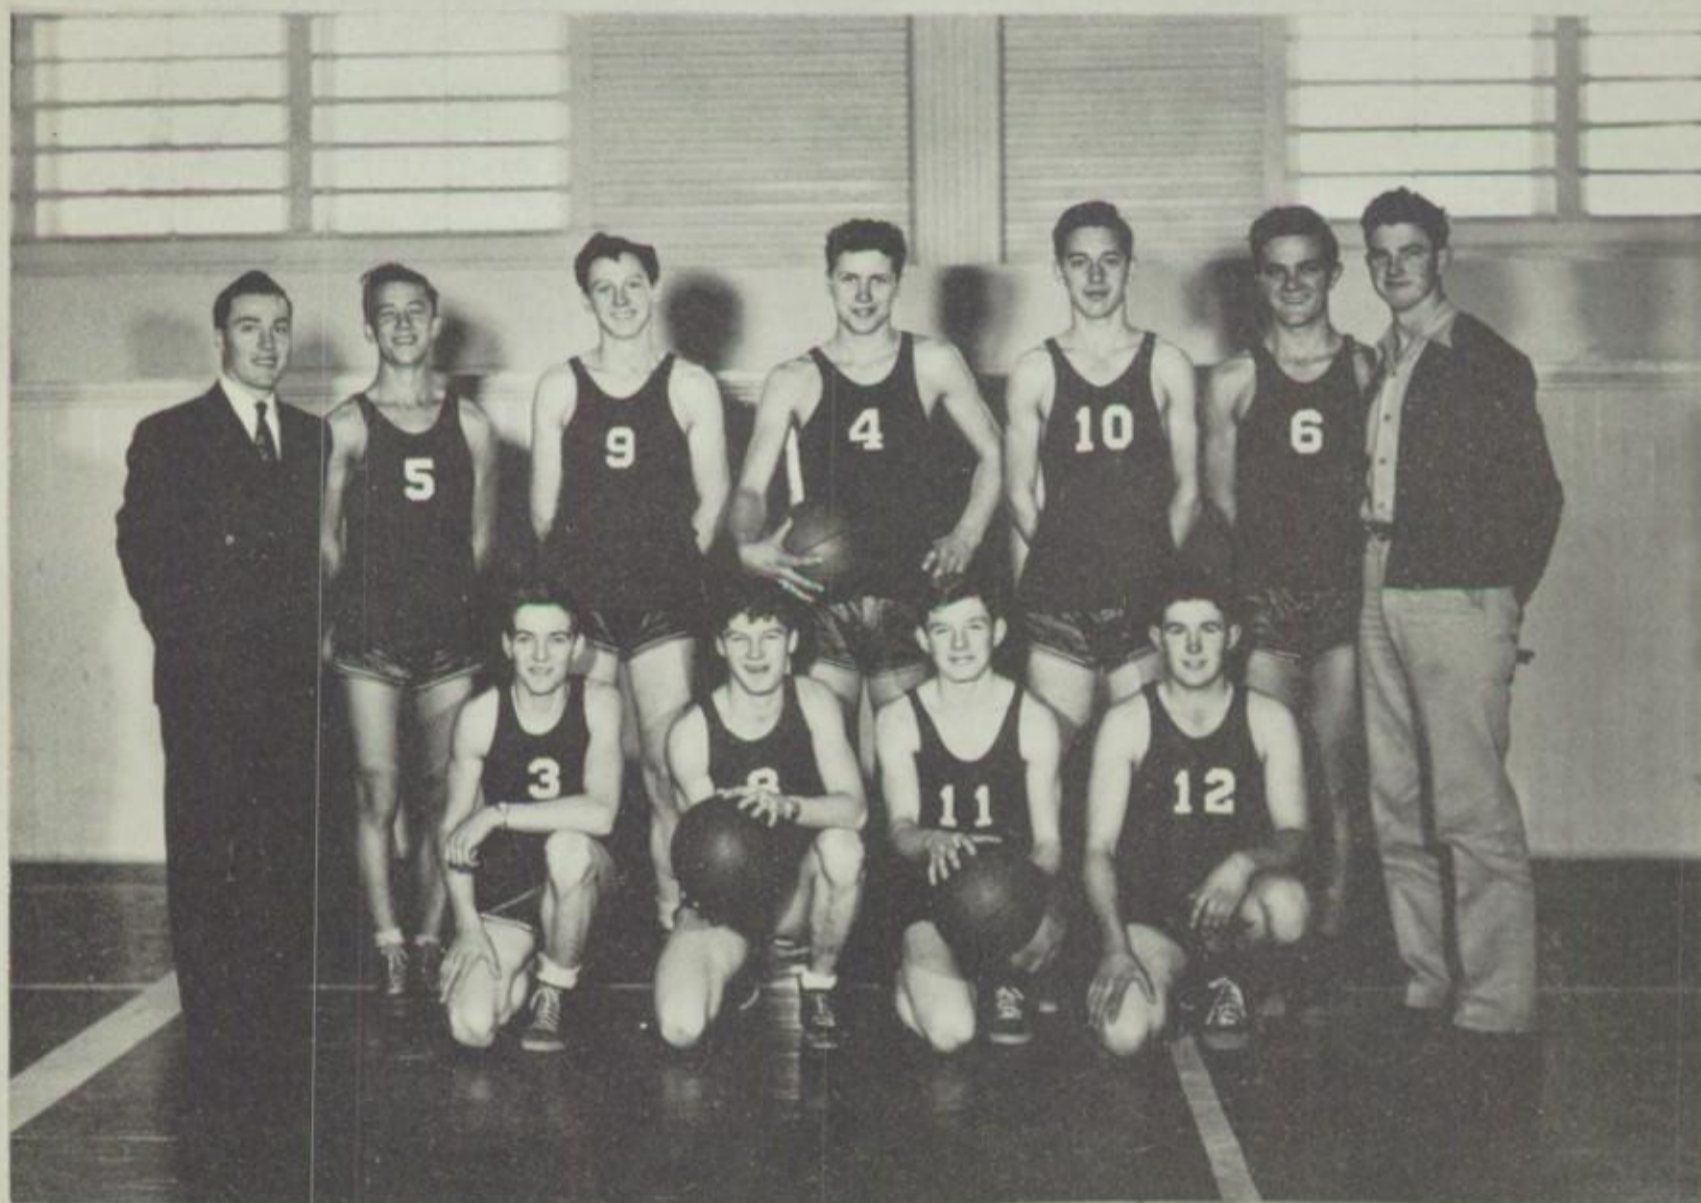

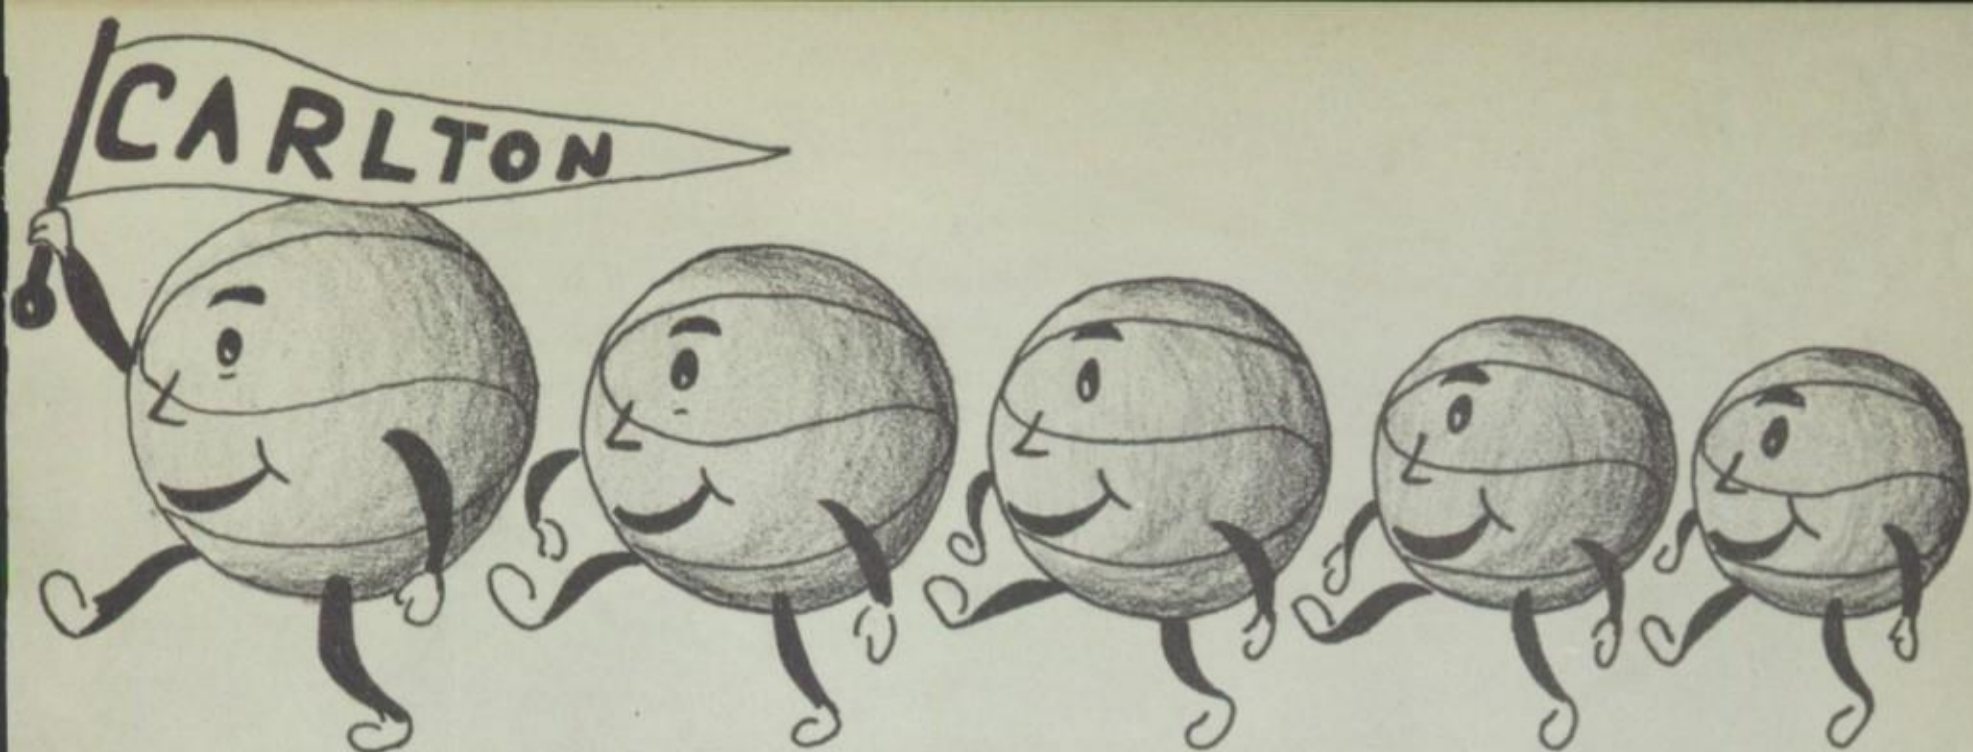

These girls were present at every game and did their best to keep the school spirit in high rank, and keep up the moral of the boys on the team.

Most of the yells this year were different from the ones we have had in previous years. We didn't have any one yell to call our "school yell" but the majority of the students seemed to like the one called "When you're up, you're up."

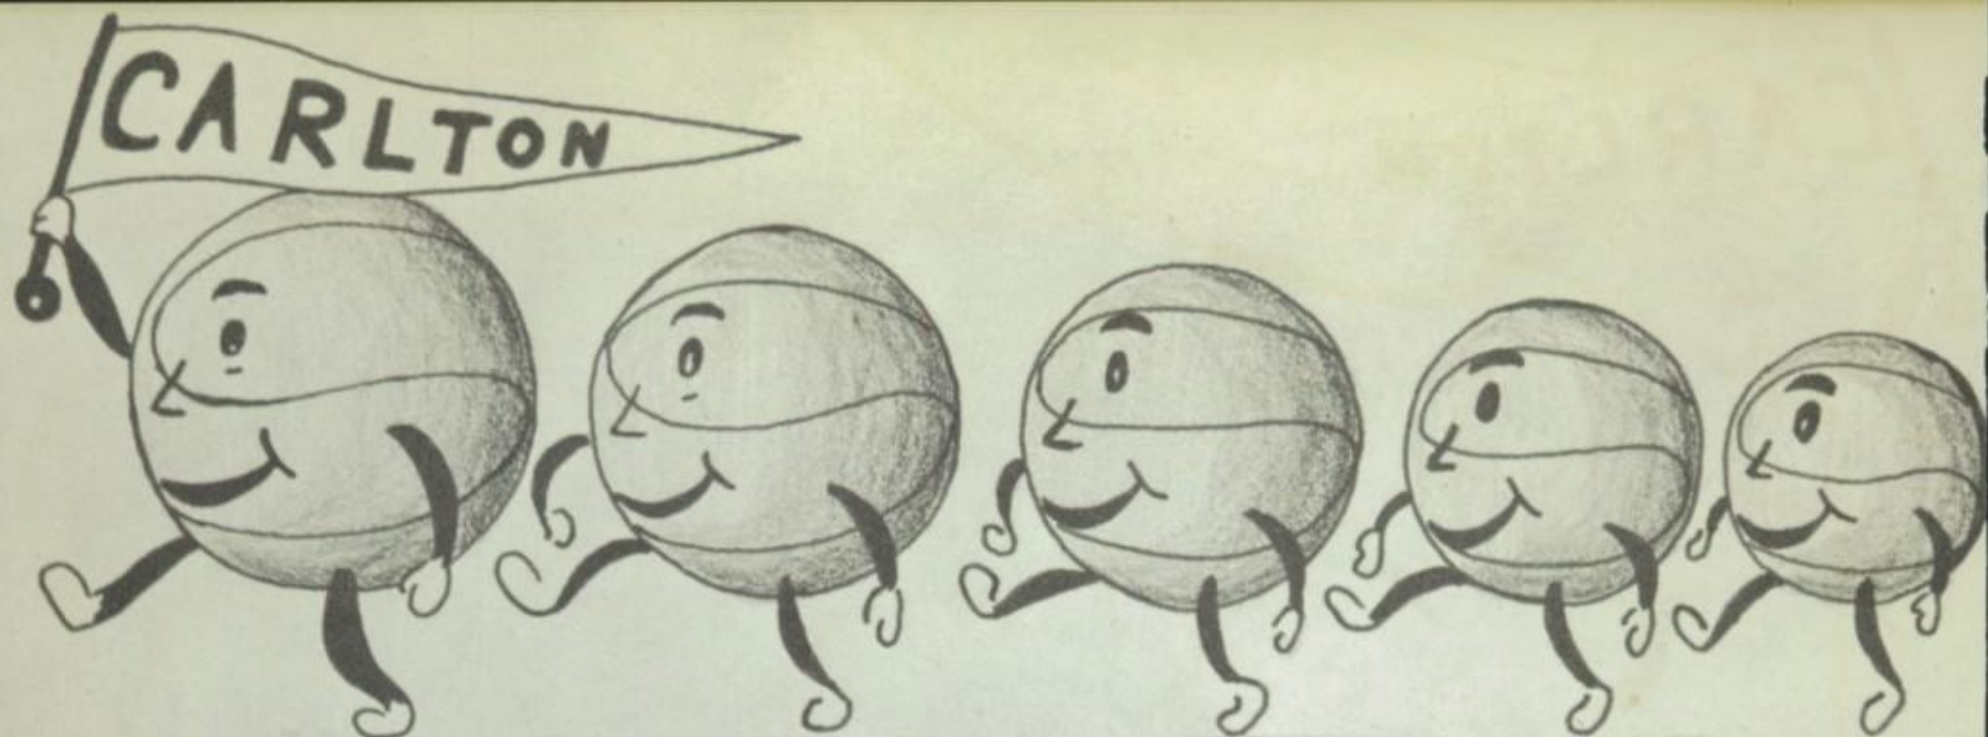

VARSITY QUEEN

This year for the first time a Varsity Queen was chosen. The student body elected Sherry Jack for queen with Marge Scott and Dorothy Weber as princesses. Sherry was crowned by Kenneth Hodney at the first home game, and Marge and Dorothy threw the basketballs out for the boys to practice.

"A" BASKETBALL

The Varsity Basketball team was made up of guards: Kenny Hodney and Leonard Johnson, center Harold Pritchett, and forwards Don Woodman and Don Martin. The subs were Austin Warner and "Chet Parrott, Bob Wasson and Harry Johnson.

Although the fighting Cards didn't win very many games they were not considered pushovers to any team in the league.

This year the team will lose two players by the graduation rule. They are Don Woodman and Harold Pritchett.

The leading scorers for this year:

Kenny Hodney- 135 pts.

Don Martin - 117 pts.

Don Woodman - 106 pts.

H. Pritchett- 86 pts.

L. Johnson - 38 pts.

"B" Basketball

Aptly pegged as the "hard luck" team in the circuit this year the "B" squad lost several games by very narrow margins. Statistics bear out this facts. Through the season Carlton garnered 424 while the opposition was making 518.

Dick Pritchett led the J.V.'s scoring attack with a total of 109 points.

Many of the boys began the season totally inexperienced but through marked determination and a tenacity of purpose they have learned much about the game and will be almost certain to hold berths on the "A" squad next year.
